GAS FRANCHISE

Second Reading of Ordinance Is Postponed Until Saturday Morning.

Action on the gas franchise ordininoe, scheduled for its second reading and adoption Thursday morning, has been postponed until Saturday morning at 10 octock, at which time the city council will meet in special session.

The ordinance proposed by the El Paso Gas & Electric company, by which it is asking that the franchise granted by the city to C. H. Besworth be transferred to it, was amended as to by the city to C. H. Besworth be transferred to it, was amended as to several sections on the suggestion of alderman Fercy McGhee. One amendment stated that there was to be no unnecessary obstacles placed in the sireets or alleys where the company was engaged in laying mains, and that work should be done as rapidly as possible. A further amendment provided that the franchise was not to become effective until the company flied a written statement agreeing to the terms and conditions of the ordinance. The franchise, it was stated, is in no wise to be considered a monopoly.

The life of the franchise will be 30 years, running from December 15, 1912. Alderman McGhee stated that the Bosworth franchise, which was passed October 5, 1904, was a 40 year franchise and had only been operated under eight years. By transferring the ordinance at this time, he said, two years were sacrificed.

and will be taken up there during the latter part of this week.

The County Fee Bill.

The new anti-fee bill, which has been prepared by representative Davis and others, has followed the suggestions of the attorney general as to making the bill constitutional. The bill as finally agreed upon provides for a graduating scale of fees with a maximum which is to be the salary decided upon for such official. One concession made in the new bill is that the county officials shall be allowed all fees collected and also the excess up to the salary fixed. In other words, if a county official's salary is fixed at $4000 a year, and his fees reach $3000, he shall be entitled to the excess. This plan, however, is not entirely satisfactory to the county officials, as the salary may be fixed too low.

To Abolish County Treasurers.

Representative Watson, of Hays county wants to abolish the office of county treasurer in the state. As this office is created by the constitution, Mr. Watson has offered a joint resolution providing for the submission of an amendment to abolish the office. There is practically no necessity for a county treasurer under present

From present indications there will not be enacted at this session of the legislature the bill now pending in the house by Lewelling and Spradley providing for the creation of public service corporation commission. There have been several hearings on this measure and the opposition has been very strong against the bill. Besides the members of the house and senate have been receiving numerous petitions from their constituents urging them to oppose the passage of the bill. Mr. Spradley said he had several amendments he intended to attach to the bill having in view a medification of the present measure, but thus far nothing has been definitely done in the premises. To Regulate Pool Halls. Fred Long, of Hillsboro, chairman of the legislative committee of the City Marshals and Chiefs of Police association, is here urging the passage of the bill requiring pool halls to close at $:30 oclock. This bill, now pending both branches of the legislature, has as same restrictions as in the early osing saloen bill. It was introduced in the house of representatives by Rob-bins, Davis and Collins.

To Raise Sholarship Age. One of the many measures on educa-tion now pending action at the hands of committees on education, is a bill by epresentative Hanoy, of Wichita county, which raises the scholarship age to years. Mr. Haney declares that the present age limit excludes thousands of men, and womn. Governor Colquitt velocd Haney's bill raising the scholarship age last session of the legislature. "My bill would encourage both girls and boys to continue longer in school at an age when schooling would be worth more to them," said Mr. Haney.

"It would put Texas in better standing before the other states and the world by providing a scholastic age in harmony with the most advaned thought of the age."

The senate committee on stock and stock raising yesterday afternoon reported favorably on a bill creating a state veterinary board and also on Hudspeth's bill providing for the creation of a sheep scab inspector.

Gov. Colquitt today transmitted to both branches of the legislature a 15,000-word special message calling attention to the platform recommendations adopted at the San Antonio convention affecting the educational system of the state and urging the passage of laws for the development of this system. He points out the necessity for liberal appropriations for the higher educational institutions of the state. He urges legislation for the divorcement of the A. & M. college from the University of Texas, an exismision of the scope of the university. He also recommends the proposed plan to authorize the University of Texas to issue bonds based on its endowment of lands bonds based on its endowment of lands and other securities. The message was read in both branches of the legislature. There are already bills pending in the legislature bearing on many of the recommendations of the governor.

The Optometry Bill.

The Optometry BHL

The medial profession and the opticians, or optometrists of Texas are again lighting out their old fight of the last legislature. The optilians are fighting for professional recognition in the form of a law providing for a state board similar to the medical hoard, and licensed practitioners; the medical profession is fighting the law, claiming that optometry is not a profession. The fight was brought into public light this time by senator Kaufman, of Gaiveston, who introduced a bill which, if passed, will place optometry on the same plane with other professional callings. The bill provides that no one may fit glasses except a licensed optician who has in every way satisfied a state board that he is expable of pursuing the vocation, or profession. The M. D.'s claim that optometry is not a profession, and one of their speakers made the statement that the fitting of glasses as followed by most of the optometrists tended rather to expert mechanics than a medical knowledge.

Those who class themselves as optometrists claim that the fitting of glasses is a business separate from the medical profession, and that the fitting of glasses is a business separate from the medical profession, and that defects in the eye due to physical aliments are cases for the physician and not for the fitter of glasses.

Both the socalled optomertists and physicians before the committees professed they are actuated by a desire to protect humanity from the practice of quacks.

The bill is similar to one introduced at the last lagislature and which are of quacks.

The bill is similar to one introduced at the last legislature and which was so bitterly fought by the state medical board. The physicians claim that inasmuch as eye defects are due to physical allments which may be remedied by the physician, the licensing of optomertists gives to a class of men who know nothing of medicine a standing they do not deserve.

School of Mines.

Prospects are bright for the State School of Mines at El Paso. Senator Hudspeth's bill providing for the establishment of a state mining and engineering school there, on the site of the El Paso Military Institute, was favorably reported by the committee. The act provides for the establishment of the school if the people of El Paso donate the Military Institute property, which includes buildings and 21 acres of land. The measure appropriates $15.000 to be used in starting the school. The bill will pass the senate, and if it passes the house and is signed by the governor, this school will be started as soon as is feasible. It will be operated as a part of the University of Texas, as is the medical school at Calveston, and will be under the control of the board of regents of the State University.

The mining school at the University of Texas was given up four years ago be ause of the fact that at Austin the school was not needed. During the few of Texas was given up four years ago be ause of the fact that at Austin the school was not needed. During the few years in which the school was in operation, there were graduated a number of men who have since become eminent as mining engineers, and the only reason the school was not confinued was that the limited number of students did not make the necessary outlay and expenditure for the upkeep of the school feasible.

A measure for which west Texas has been clamoring for years has at instreceived favorable consideration at the hands of the legislature, in the form of a mining law, introduced into the senate by senator Hudspeth. This law, if passed, will give an impetus to mining and exploration in western Texas. The law, similar in its principal articles to the mining law of Colorado will give the prospector a chance to file on land which he locates, and will enable him to hold such land if he discovers valuable mineral on it. A similar bill was introduced in the house by the El Paso representative. The measure will go to the legislature backed by a favorable report from the committee, and will be supported by a number of senators from the west.

Normal School Land. Years ago the Arizona legislature passed a law granting to the Tempe Normal 12,000 acres of school land lying in Maricopa county. The grant was not to be made till Arizona became a state. MAKE TRIP TO LAS CRUCES AND ORGANS C. P. Henry and John T. Fletcher made a run Wednesday to Las Cruces made a run Wednesday to Las Cruces and back by way of the Organ mountains and San Augustine pass, in fire hours. They were in a fifty horse power Cadillac. They found the road to Las Cruces in fine shape, but very heavy sand between Las Cruces and the Organs and also some heavy sand after crossing through the pass. This sand stretch was about 15 miles long, between the pass and the junction of the Las Cruces, Alamogordo and El Paso roads. From the junction point on into El Paso, they found the road in fine shape. Grading is now in progress on the road between Las Cruces and the Organs and will soon he completed, when travel will be easy.
